FOR BUSINESS

BE SEEN

How would you like the world to see you and your team?

It's this simple: Your Professional Image Matters.

Is it important that your team is well presented within the company?

Do you currently have good-looking, up to date photographs of your entire team? If you asked them all, right now, could they give you a professional image for a project document, an article, or external publication?

And if they do have portraits, do they represent your team and the company accurately and professionally and show real personality?

YOUR TEAM

Standardise ALL of your internal communication imagery

The perfect professional photograph is not simply just a head shot, it is the professional and personal identity of who you and your team really are, relaxed and at ease, confident and approachable - even within the professional environment.

““ With Rudi’s Help, we quickly realised, that, sometimes its not about what you do, but who you are.”

YOUR STYLE

Visually Yours

It's easy to forget that there is a face behind any internal or external communication you make.

A great corporate headshot can be re-used across all of your business communications: email, internal chat/messaging systems, discussion forums, newsletters, project team briefings, client presentations etc. Finally your clients, and your colleagues around the world will be able to put faces to names.

YOUR CHOICE

Even with an incredibly short shooting time, it's possible to take both a clean white style as well as a more warm and welcoming image.

You'll receive two versions of each shot you decide on, and it's even possible to add your logo to the images.

Photographing large numbers of team members can be done efficiently with incredibly strong and effective results. There's No huge Impact to your working day, with the average shoot taking about 10 minutes per person.

YOUR IDENTITY

Working for you

Outside of the office, your team are a representation of your company.

While a platform like Linked-in has been traditionally a place for individual promotion, it's important to remember that currently they are also one face of your business.

Allowing your staff to get the most use of their new images will also ensure you are well represented on all professional outlets.

YOUR INVESTMENT

Many corporate photographers can (and do) charge between 75 and 175 Euros per person.

With Rudi Wells Fotografie, pricing is simple, it's an hourly rate, which also includes one full size edited digital image per person in three colour versions.

When you consider that it's possible to shoot 5 and often 6 members of your team per hour, that works out to an amazing investment for images that can be used for years and for a multitude of uses.

Group photos are included for no extra charge, and delivery of the final edits is around 7-10 days.

Basic hair and make-up can be arranged, and really does take your images to another level. Please contact the studio for more information.
